

12Eleven

Bio

12Eleven is a radiant, energetic, and fun acoustic-pop/R&B band with a vast range of cathartic and dance-worthy songs. The main ingredients to 12Eleven's vibe are their warm vocals, infectious groove, and fresh sound. 12Eleven has played at SouthSounds Music and Arts Festival, Billy Bowlegs Pirate Festival, as well as events at Troy University, and venues along the Gulf Coast and Lower Alabama.

12Eleven is currently in the process of finishing up their debut E.P. which is set to release Summer of 2018.

The band members include: Jairuzniel Rojas (Vocals), Daniel Hunt (Guitar), and Pierce Gilmore (Percussion).

Rojas, a native of the Philippines, began singing when he was very young. After moving from the Philippines, Rojas got involved with his high school, performing at every event he could. In his first year of college he met Daniel Hunt, a native of Gulf Shores, who had picked up guitar in his late teens. The two teamed up to create an Indie/Pop band under the name 12Eleven. After picking up small gigs around Troy and receiving encouragement to expand their brand, they buckled down and added Pierce Gilmore in the fall of 2016 when he enrolled at Troy University. Gilmore, a Milton, FL native, had drum experience dating back to age 4. Rojas and Gilmore had gigged together in high school which made Gilmore the perfect addition. Like Gilmore, Denver Wallace grew up in church and learned music from an early age. Wallace performed in a collegiate music ensemble with Rojas. It was through this relationship that Wallace was invited to the band a year later.

The band has been able to create a unique, and well-rounded sound due to their musical influences ranging from: Ed Sheeran, Maroon 5, Young the Giant, Alabama Shakes, Daniel Caesar, Bruno Mars, Local Natives, Bon Iver, and Mumford and Sons. Their future plans include releasing an EP in the summer of 2018, and touring beginning in 2019.
